Dear colleagues and esteemed readers,

It is my great pleasure to present this thematic issue dedicated to the field of dental medicine – a discipline that plays a vital role in maintaining overall health and enhancing quality of life.

Contemporary dental medicine is an exceptionally dynamic field, marked by rapid technological advancements and outstanding scientific research. Today's well-informed patients increasingly place high demands on healthcare professionals, often requiring highly specialized and responsible approaches to treatment.

I sincerely thank all authors and reviewers for their valuable professional contributions, as well as the editorial board of the ABCR journal for curating content that will undoubtedly foster knowledge exchange, improve clinical practice, and promote professional, scientific, and educational achievements within the field of dental medicine.
